Reviews:

The subdivision of San Antonio de la Pedrera are just 4 rows of land with a maximum of 400 meters distance from the beach. This project is approved by local authorities with a 800 m2 area available for constructions, which ensures large space between houses. There are already a few houses in the area, all very good. 1st row houses almost all purchased by Europeans, Americans and Argentines. The development project plans not more than 200 houses in this residential community, located 5 km from La Pedrera, with its own coastline, simultaneously hidden and preserved. There is an environmental impact study approved, for which areas of native forest (acacia coast more than anything) must be preserved.
